Treasury Report: Mrs Smith was asking about the take home library, they are getting short on books and wondering if there are any available scholastic bucks for that? Individual books by level. Amber Overton will check on this.

Principal Discher: Brought a sample of the drawings for the proposed mural. Wants to make sure that the children are included in the mural. The total for the mural is estimated at $25,000.

PTA supports the possibility of the mural.

Natalie Edwards: Report from district meeting. There are several students that are going to state for reflections. Need to see if there is interest that anyone knows of to get the PTA started at the new Daniels Elementary. Money will need to be allocated for students that will move to the new schools to give the new schools a startup. The "fight the new drug" program will be in March, and will be for all parents. March 28th at 7:00 at RMMS. White Ribbon Week, Internet Safety, will start next year, talking about everything that you see on the internet is not real.

Amber Overton: Book fair will be next week. Everyone liked the way the volunteers were setup for the fair.

Jessica King has all the SLC Teacher dinners setup and will be sending out a sign up genius.

Lisa Huntsman: Literacy month assembly will be next Friday for about 20 minutes. Will be making a video to introduce the theme. Need to brainstorm about the big finale for the assembly. Thinking of renting minion suits for the teachers and have the highest reading teachers do a relay race. Send home the handout sheets on Monday the 30th. A minion reasons to read...what's yours?

Weekly awards: Pizza rewards with pepperoni in shape of goggles...

Grew's guacamole and Salsa Party

Twinkies and Grapes or Bananas

Popcorn bags with minions or Popsicles

Top Readers, Overall Reader, Most Improved Readers will get a goodie bag

Leftover art sets and other things for a Raffle

Encourage the teachers to do read-a-thons throughout the month

April Owens: February 15th will be the next deadline for box tops. Hot chocolate and pajama party for the winning classes. Flyers will be sent home with kids. The labels for the education program will be ending this year. We currently have 12,000 points to spend in the catalog.
